ABSTRACT

Designed to accompany the course syllabi, this five-section bibliography cites over 1,500 books, textbooks, and journal articles for teaching political sociology at the university level. Section I, on general works, contains two categories of resources: materials on the theory of political sociology and general collections and texts. Section 2 cites resources on social bases, institutional structures, and regime types. Within this section, materials are arranged according to the following categories: character and requisites of different regime forms, political power, and political change. Section 3 contains resources on political culture, political action, political alignment, and conflict. Resources on political organizations and policy making are contained in section 4. Resources listed in the final section focus on two categories of comprehensive studies: nation and area studies and community studies. Within each section or subsection, materials are listed alphabetically by author. Each citation includes author, publication date, title, city of publication, and publisher. The majority of materials cited were published between 1960 and 1984. (LP)
